HOW THE RJSF HAS IMPACTED MY MEDICAL JOURNEY

Thanks to the Rose's Journey Support Fund (RJSF), my journey in clinical medicine has been made much easier. Established by Dr. Rose C. Nanyonga, this fund helps medical students who show promise and share the values of Rose's Journey.

The RJSF has eased the financial burden of a diploma in clinical medicine for me. With their support, I can focus on studying and gaining clinical experience without worrying about money.

Being part of the RJSF community has been inspiring. I've met other students and mentors who believe in providing excellent care with compassion and resilience. This motivates me to excel in my studies and be a caring doctor.

The fund taught me the importance of empathy and putting patients first. Through workshops and mentorship, I've learned to be humble and advocate for my patients' well-being.

Additionally, the RJSF encouraged me to take on leadership roles and make positive changes in healthcare. With their guidance, I feel confident in making a difference in the medical field.

Overall, the Rose's Journey Support Fund has been a huge help in my medical journey. It's not just about money; it's about community, inspiration, and making a meaningful impact in healthcare. I'm grateful for their support in shaping me into the doctor I aspire to be.
